Short Description

Our storage compartment lift systems are an ideal solution if you are looking to either keep items away from view or make use of wasted space. Automated lift systems are not just for televisions.

Unlock hidden storage

Both in a marine and architectural scenario, there are many occurrences where sections of built-in joinery or furniture contain a wealth of inaccessible storage space. This space can be utilised thanks to these innovative lift systems.

Keep essential items at hand

In certain locations, shelving and drawers are either impractical or not possible. A storage lift system can provide the perfect answer, allowing items to be brought to reach at the touch of a button.

Allow a design to shine

A storage lift system can help to keep furniture design, and therefore interior design, pure and clear from everyday essentials. Allow a design to be both beautiful and practical.

Description

Unlock the Potential

Storage opportunities are everywhere but they are usually inaccessible. Unlock litres of storage space with an innovative lift system.
