Short Description

Folding bunk bed hinges with damper, powder coated steel

These high-quality folding bunk bed hinges are designed for interior applications, providing a sturdy and reliable solution for single beds. Made from durable steel and finished with a protective powder coating in brown, they are ideal for use in a variety of settings, including yachts, cruise ships, and apart-hotels where temporary bedding is needed.

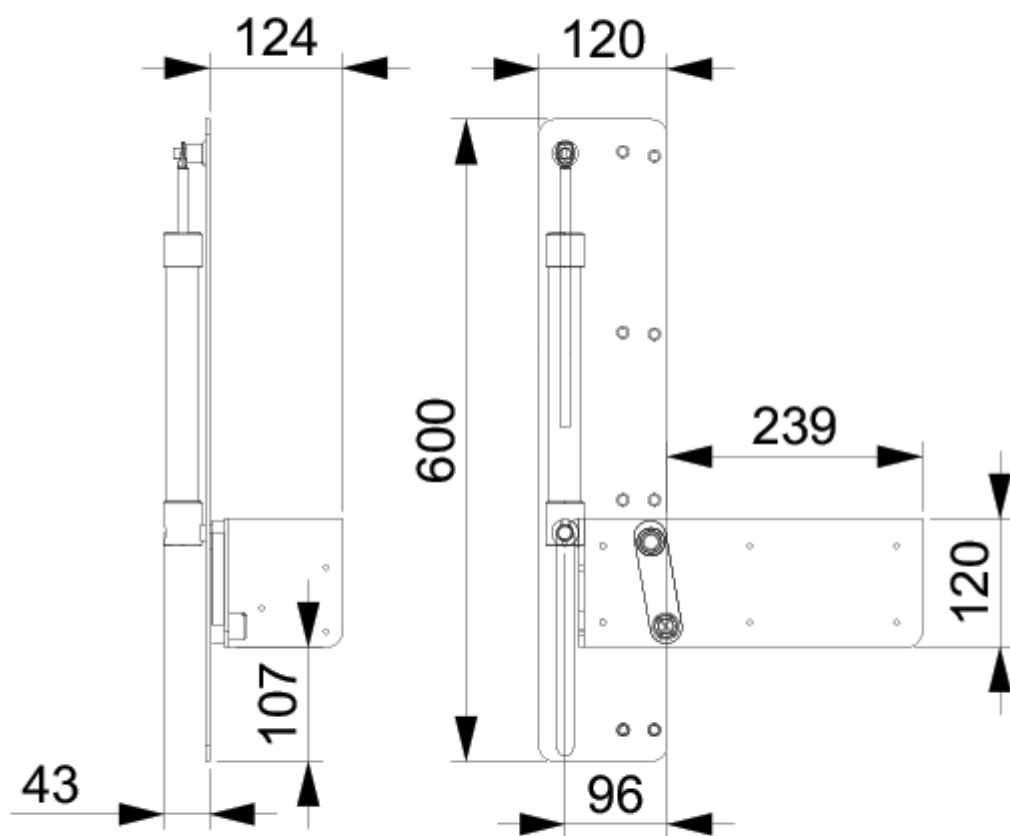

- Constructed from steel for enhanced strength and durability
- Powder-coated brown finish for added protection
- Includes 334300C damper to control the lowering weight
- Designed for a single bed along its longest edge with no additional support required
- Commonly used in the yacht and cruise ship industry, as well as apart-hotels
- Handing is determined by the side of damper installation
- Made in Italy by Razeto & Casareto
