Short Description

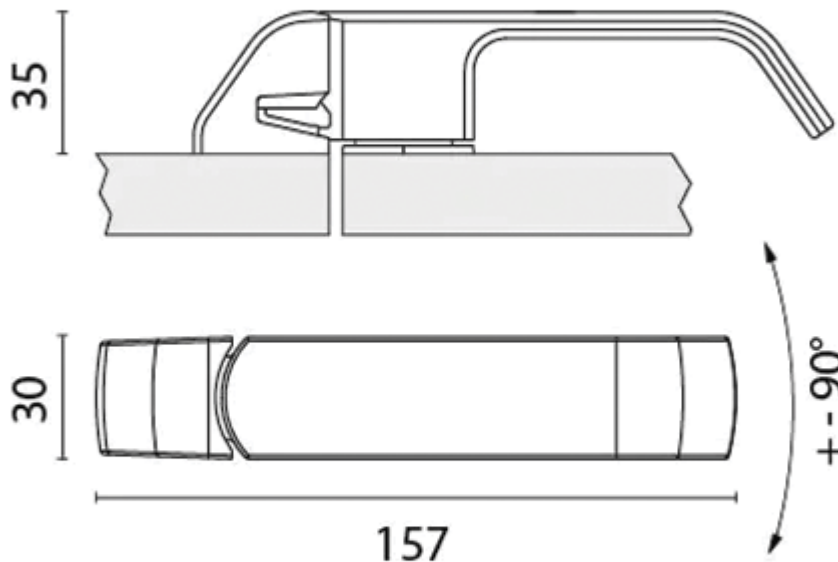

Rotating fridge door handle in chromed brass.

This handle is designed to ensure fridges remain closed and with a good seal. This is especially important in transport interiors such as yachts, RV's, trains and aviation. The handle is designed to be secured to the fridge door panel, the corresponding striker plate then fixes to the surrounding joinery. The door is secured by rotating the handle into the striker plate.

- Available with or without key operated lock.
- Lockable version supplied with two keys.
- Product sold online in chrome plated finish, other finishes available on request.
