Product Images

Short Description

Tango is a polyurethane used for the internal coating of walls, ceilings, various decorations and small upholstered furniture. It can be requested coupled with foam rubber of various thicknesses and possibly with the addition of a light layer of felt or polyester knit which facilitates its processing (seaming or gluing). Do not use solvent-based adhesives.

Tango has a distinctive texture and feel thanks to the weave-like pattern design. The fabric is especially suited to upholstering ceiling or wall panels.
