Short Description

316-grade (A4) stainless steel mixer tap with detachable spout.

This striking mixer tap is made from the highest grade of stainless steel and features a practical detachable spout. Marine-grade stainless steel is not only highly resistant to corrosion, but it also helps prevent bacteria build-up and therefore offers a more hygienic solution over a brass product. It is also completely lead-free.

This particular model is available with a black or white spout. The body of the tap has a brushed finish as standard.
